The Russian Company Wimm Bill Dann [WBD] located in Moscow produces besides softdrinks, fruit juices also milk products such as yoghurt. WBD belongs to PEPSICO Europe and its stocks are traded at the New York and Moscow stock exchange. With 30 plants in more than 16 cities they belong to Europe's largest food producers.

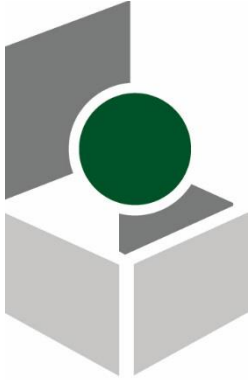

For more than 10 years Dienst has been cooperating with WBD. Several Topload lines were already sold and installed since then. This new project started in June 2015 and beginning of 2016 the packaging lines were delivered to Russia. Ostpack, represented by Dmitry Kanev, who is a sales company for machinery in Moscow, supports the project. Ostpack has been a Dienst agent in Russia for many years now.

The order includes two production lines with two Tray and Carton Erecting machines type ZAM-S-II-2 with grippers and transport systems. They are equipped with bought-in components from Germany as german quality is quite important to the Russian producers.

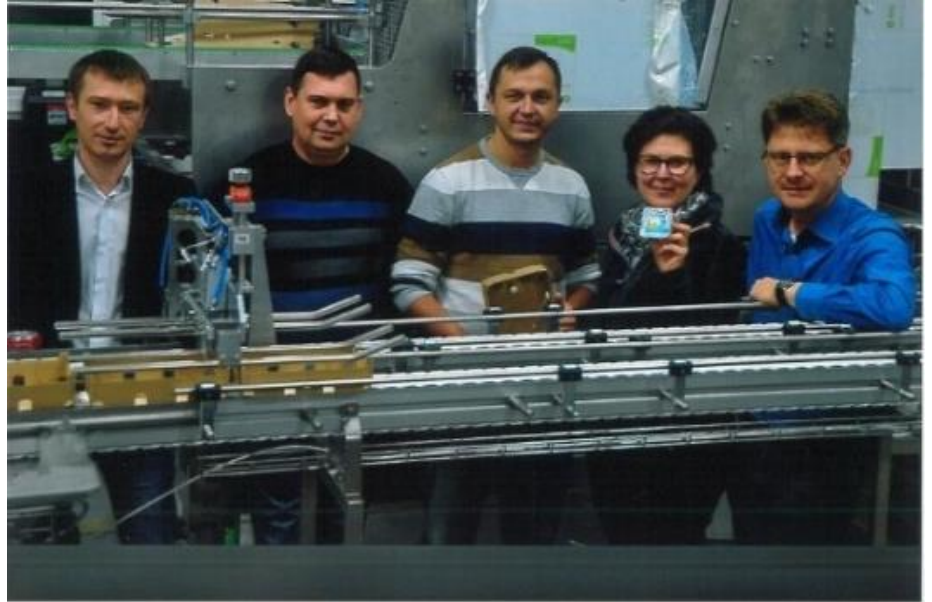

The yoghurt pots are sealed with sealing foil through the packaging line and packed in two different formats and in two different layers and weights. Production speed sums up for 2 x 30 trays per minute being the 100gr pots and 2 x 15 trays per minute being 50gr pots. In total 21.600 pots per production hours are packed in trays.

Two products, each one 50gr and 100 gr
100 gr in 1 layer per tray (2x3) x1
